Scout fund drive to open this Saturday

The annual drive to finance Scouting in Arlington Heights will open February 19, to continue until February 26. Henry F. Muller will serve as the general chairman, with A. G. Cudley as chairman of the house to house committee.

The secretary will be Oscar C. Kurtz. At the close of the drive the receipts will be audited by Warren Kohler.

The following men will serve as Majors: Victor Beisler, Lewis Draper, N. M. Laitof, C. E. McWharter, W. A. Miles, M. W. Prellberg and John Randag.

Chairman Muller says he is particularly anxious that the drive be successful this year so that boys today will have an opportunity to participate in the Cubbing and Scouting program, which has meant so much in the lives of young men who have recently communicated with the Herald.

Cubbing and Scouting activities during the past year, in addition to the regular weekly and monthly meetings, included the Cub Round Robin Baseball series, the organization of an Air Scout Squadron in connection with Troop 7, waste paper pickup and the organization of the community committee, who elected A. G. Cudley as their chairman.

The majors are working to line up their captains and workers, who will carry on the solicitation. As a worker calls upon a home during the drive, he will have with him a statement showing how the money will be spent in carrying on Scouting during the year. All but one cent of each dollar contributed is used in Scouting and Cubbing in Arlington Heights in the North-Western Suburban Council, the penny of each dollar going to support National Headquarters which in turn gives service to local organizations.

On January 31 there were 107 active Cubs and 99 active Scouts in Arlington Heights. Eleven young men were active in the Air Scout Squadron. Last year a total of $1,955.35 was raised for 495 Cub Scouts.

The committee hopes that this year's figures may even exceed that of last year due to the increased needs in Cubbing and Scouting.

Village board requests reciprocity in snow removal

In these difficult times — with manpower and equipment irreplaceable the Village Departments are operating under unusual pressures.

As we dig ourselves out of the sudden snow we are reminded among other things of the added costs that must be met to attain a semblance of normalcy.

If you haven't purchased your vehicle license tag — your business license, if you are in a local business or even the $2.00 tag for your dog — now is an opportune time to do so.

Your cooperation is much appreciated and many of these small items will add up to a sizeable bill to meet the mounting costs of public service.

Yours to Keep
Arlington Heights
in the Forefront.
President and Member of Board of Trustees.

By direction of the president.

Double farewell party for two returning to army service

The showroom of Gaare Motor Sales, Arlington Heights, in pre-war days, was used for the presentation of Studebaker cars, but it was never put to better use, says its proprietor, than Tuesday night, when it was the scene of a family farewell for Melvin Gaare, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gaare, who after two weeks furlough, returned Wednesday to his camp at Richmond, Va. He has been in the armed forces three years.

The other guest of honor was Melvin's cousin, Everett Gaare, would-in the Solomons, who is on a six weeks furlough. He will be an instructor at an army base in Georgia after Feb. 27th.

The members of the Gaare clan included Grandma Gaare, her sons and daughters and their families, numbering 35 in all.

Hold evening hours for registration by voters March 1, 2, 3

Helene Busse, Arlington Heights village clerk, announced this week that she would hold evening office hours March 1, 2 and 3 for registration of voters. All village and township clerks are asked to give every possible opportunity to voters to register. March 3 is the last date that new residents, or those who have changed addresses can qualify for the April primaries.

Howard Helm, township clerk, will handle at his home, North Dunton, Arlington Heights, the registration of those who reside outside the incorporated boundaries. Residents of Prospect Heights are also required to register at the town clerk's office.

It was some snow

Wm. Luehring, Arlington Hts. street commissioner, says that he knew that the Herald has gained a reputation for getting quick results, but never as speedily as last Thursday. The story that the village snow plow was ready and "let the snow come" had not been on the street an hour before the snow came—and such quantities too, says Bill.

Bill accepted the challenge from the weather department and began plowing. There was a slight delay of an hour or two when the plow hit a manhole cover. Bill landing on his head. Boys at the "desk" now call him "flat-top." Anyway, Arlington Heights people can be thankful that Supt. Luehring knows how to get the most possible out of the municipal equipment and is not stopped by a mere head injury.

Many a motorist can also be thankful for the service given by the street department when engaged in clearing the snow. In place of picking up the tin lizzies they found in their path they placed them on "dry land." With the aid of Tony Koske and his caterpillar, they began removing the snow pile from the business streets Tuesday.

"There is nothing like a brisk walk (unless given a lift) for the appetite and fitting a man for a good day's work, especially when my car is buried in a snow bank," says Walter Krause. Walter resides in the deluxe estate section on So. State road that has not yet installed its own snow plow.

Curly Rodewald has his newspaper delivery troubles during good weather and the snow storm made it a lot worse. The boys of today are not as used to the rigors of winter as the youngsters of Curly's boyhood. He and his wife had to handle as many as seven delivery routes Sunday morning in order to give service. Patrons only missed their paper one morning.

By the way, Curly says that unless somebody finds him some delivery boys there may not be any metropolitan dailies delivered in Arlington. If there are any boys with red blood in the veins who want to earn some money, see him.

Hank Dreyer of Dreyer Home-furnishings has found that necessity is the mother of invention at his store. Needing additional heat because of chills that were traveling up and down his back, he has invented and installed a new kind of a humidifier and is testing it out in his salesroom. One end resembles one of those old time poultry crockery drinking fountains that were found on our grandfather's farms a half century ago. The other end looks like a snake as it winds its way through a radiator.

Hank is not satisfied with his "Lorenz Jones' invention but his chief clerk, Gertrude Wiese, is so entranced over its possibilities that she proudly displays it to all who enter.

Chief Skoog thinks it is as important to prevent accidents as it is to give first aid after injuries are received. He was going the rounds of the business district Tuesday morning with a long pole knocking off icicles overhanging sidewalks. Some of them were long enough to kill a man if they hit him in the wrong place. Besides, Carl had a lot of fun doing it.

Arlington Heights high school had no sessions Friday, the morning of the big storm. Only 180 of an enrollment of 600 put in an appearance. None of the school buses were able to get through and classes opened with as few as five or six pupils where the normal number is thirty or more.

It was different at the elementary school. A third of the pupils were in attendance. Supt. Clabaugh decided it was better to keep in school those who came than to send them home when their parents did not expect them.

No sessions were held at St. Peter or St. James schools. Many pupils attending those schools reside in the rural districts.

The street department is going out of its way to clear the streets of snow and is asking autoists to show their appreciation by dropping over to the municipal building and purchasing that 1944 vehicle tag.

It is a long way from the snow and cold of Arlington Heights to the rain and mud of the South Pacific, but John Heideman who is stationed there, has sent an appeal to Carl Ewert to send him a pair of rubber boots or galoshes. "We need them down here," writes John. "We have as much mud as you folks back home have snow."

"The snow storm Thursday afternoon and nobody else," says Geo. Schimming, "is to blame for the collision at Vail and St. James street." George was driving a seven passenger car while Wilbert Busse, home on furlough, was driving north on Vail. Wilbert did not see the other car and hit it in the center.

Explain new red, blue token ration plan

A new and simplified plan for the two major food rationing programs — Processed Foods, and Meats and Fats—will be put into operation on Sunday, February 27.

In accordance with the Office of Price Administration policy of simplifying all rationing procedures, the new plan will greatly benefit everyone . . . the housewife, the retailer, the wholesaler, the banks, etc. The highlights of the plan are as follows:

(1) The new plan will be used for two rationing programs—Processed Foods and Meats and Fats. (It will not affect sugar rationing).

(2) The red stamps in War Ration Book No. 4 will be used for the Meats and Fats program.

(3) The blue stamps in War Ration Book No. 4 will be used for the Processed Foods program.

(4) All stamps (red and blue), will have a uniform value of 10 points each. (The numbers on the stamps—8, 5, 2, and 1, will no longer indicate point values).

(5) Red and blue tokens—approximately the size of a dime, will be given "in change," when purchases do not equal the exact number of points which can be given in the 10 point stamps, in the same way that loose 1 point stamps are now given in change under the Meats and Fats rationing program.

(6) Red tokens only will be given in change for red stamps and blue tokens only will be given in change for blue stamps.

(7) All tokens—red or blue—will have a uniform point value of one point each.

(8) All tokens will remain valid indefinitely. (They will not have an expiration date, as stamps have).

These tokens may be used by the consumer in making later purchases.

"Building for Tomorrow," the full-color movie of life at Valparaiso university, Valparaiso, Ind., will be shown Friday, Feb. 25 at St. Peter Lutheran school as part of the program for the regular meeting of the Mission Endeavor.

The 35-minute sound film is narrated by Lowell Thomas, internationally-known news commentator and an alumnus of Valparaiso university. The photography was done by an alumnus and a student, and the script was written by also a student of the northern Indiana school.

The picture describes all phases of student life. According to the author of the script, "it is not a formal, conducted tour of the buildings, but a personalized view of life on a small campus as seen through the eyes of the students themselves." The scenes were all taken during 1942.

Since the picture has been filmed, it has been estimated that over 20,000 people have seen it throughout the United States.

The general public is invited to attend, especially prospective students and parents of high school students. Admission is free.

Virgil Horath back on the job

Virgil Horath is back on his two jobs—boss at the Horath Service Station and president of Arlington Heights Lions Club. He was taken from the navy last October and the Navy sent him back to Arlington Heights within three months.

His friends say that Virgil always did things fast and his navy life was no exception. There is no use in asking Virgil what exactly happened. He does not know except that in the navy training he met a man who knew more about judo than Virgil. He has been under the care of doctors since that time.

He was able to return to his service station this week for the first time, but he will be wearing the "white collar" for some time to come.

Is first of Arlington H. S. class of '42 to receive his wings

Lt. Lester S. Bennett, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester G. Bennett, 415 N. Ridge, Arlington Heights, is probably the first 1942 graduate of Arlington Heights high school to receive his wings. He became an aviation cadet when only 18 years old.

Lt. Bennett arrived home on furlough Saturday and is awaiting orders.

Cong. Schuetz dies suddenly

Leonard W. Schuetz, congressman of the 7th district and representing a large number of the Chicago suburbs and northwest Chicago in Cook county, died suddenly Sunday night in a Washington hotel. He was 59 years old and was elected to the 71st congress in 1931, serving continuously since that time.

A successor, either a Republican or Democrat, will be elected next November.

Lenten Services at Arlington Heights Churches

Padlock Publications, realizing the added importance of the coming Lenten season, is cooperating this year with the pastors of the local churches in the presentation to their readers of the special Lenten Services. Special attention is called to the page announcement of St. Peter church that appears on page six of this section. Thru the co-operation of a group of local citizens a series of five community church advertisements, will appear in succeeding issues of the Herald.

REV. L. V. STEPHAN

The Christian world has always made much of the sacred season of Lent. During these forty days the followers of Jesus make a study of the suffering and death of Christ.

At first blush it might appear strange that so much attention should be devoted to the death of Christ. It is not that way with other individuals. In the case of great men in world history, men make much of their lives. The biographies of Alexander, Caesar, Gladstone, Washington or Lincoln give very little space to the death of these men.

Not so with Jesus. Fully one-fourth of the Gospels in the New Testament are devoted to an account of the death of Christ. The reason for this is apparent from beliefs of the Christian Church. All Christendom teaches that it was through his suffering and death that Jesus redeemed the world from the power of sin; every Christian places his hope in the forgiveness of sins and eternal salvation because of what happened on Calvary many long years ago.

To assist in observing this sacred season, the churches of this community invite the public once more to a special series of services and devotions. This year more than ever the Lenten season means much to this world of pain and sorrow. Many are weighed down with worry and grief; many are burdened with heartache and sighing. The Lenten season is made for these.

ST. PETER LUTH. CHURCH

The Lenten season will begin at St. Peter Lutheran church with a special Lenten service on Ash Wednesday, February 23, and will continue thereafter every Wednesday evening during the Lenten season. All services will begin at 8 o'clock p. m. A series of sermons will be delivered by the pastor on the subject "The Places of His Passion." In spirit the congregation will be invited to stand in meditation 1. In the Garden of Gethsemane (Feb. 23); 2. Within the High Priest's Palace (Mar. 1); 3. Before the Fire of Coals (Mar. 8); 4. Before Pontius Pilate's Palace (Mar. 15); 5. Along the Way of Sorrows (Mar. 22); 6. On Calvary's Hill (Mar. 29); 7. Beside Jesus' Tomb (Apr. 7).

Regular morning services will be held as usual during this time with a German service at 9:30 a. m. and an English service at 11:00 a. m. Holy Communion will be observed as heretofore on the second Sunday of every month in the German language and on the fourth Sunday in the English language. A Loyalty prayer service in honor of the parents and relatives of the boys in the service will be held every fourth Sunday evening of every second month beginning with February 27 to which everyone is invited.

ST. JAMES CHURCH

Rev. Geo. J. Stier, priest of St. James church has announced the following services in addition to the regular masses during the Lenten season:

Wednesday mornings, 8 o'clock, high mass with the blessing and distribution of the Ashes.

Wednesday evenings, 7:45, Devotions and sermon.

Fridays, 2:30 and 7:45, Stations of the Cross.

Sunday afternoon, 2:30, Stations of the Cross.

UNION SERVICE FEB. 25

February 25, the world day of prayer will be observed in Arlington Heights at the Methodist church at 2:30 p. m. The program is outlined and sponsored by the United Council of Christian Women and by representatives of the First Presbyterian Church, St. John Evangelical and Reformed Church and the Methodist Meeting House. The theme of the day is "And the yord wondered that there was no intercessor." The local program will be conducted by church leaders of the various societies within the respective churches.

Arlington boy wins 4th place in oratorical contest

The Seventh Annual National High School Oratorical contest, sponsored by the American Legion national Americanism Commission, has just reached the district contests, the zone having been completed last week. Arlington Heights Township high school was represented in the contest in zone one, which included all of Cook County and the city of Chicago, by Elmer Neumann, of 79 W. Campbell street, Arlington Heights, Ill.

Orations were the original efforts of the contestants and must have been of from ten to twelve minutes in length of delivery. In addition to the prepared oration, each contestant was required to deliver an extemporaneous address from four to six minutes on some phase of the constitution of the United States.

Only the winners in each of the 5 zones in Illinois advance to the district contest which determines the champion of the state.

Arlington Heights high school is proud of Elmer Neuman for his fine showing in the large Cook county zone, and expect him to place even nearer the top in next year's competition for which he will be also eligible.

The next meeting of the Merle Guild Post of the American Legion will enjoy hearing the oration, and will present him with a suitable award for representing this post in the contest.

Red Cross Blood Bank gets 131 additional pints

Despite Tuesday's bad weather, 170 people turned out for the Arlington Heights blood donor's unit and 131 of them were accepted as donors.

Mrs. Paul H. Gilson, chairman of the unit, says that everything went smoothly and she wishes to thank both the women recruiters and the townspeople for their unselfish co-operation in this vital task.

The 26 people who helped with the blood taking procedure were served a delicious lunch by the women of the Lutheran church.

There will not be another opportunity to donate blood in Arlington Heights for four months and since Tuesday's volunteers will be ready for another donation in ten weeks they are urged to go to the city as soon as the ten weeks are past.

The most disappointed person in Arlington Heights Tuesday was a German-American girl employed at one of the local manufacturing plants. She is a naturalized American citizen—none could be more loyal, although she has been in this country only a few years.

A good many people are squeamish about donating blood to the Red Cross, but not this girl. She is quite small and was once turned down for being under weight.

When she heard that the Mobile blood unit was coming to Arlington Heights, she at once began extra eating and doing everything so she could "make the grade."

Tuesday morning she walked over a mile through snow to get to her work ahead of time so she could take time off to make her blood donation. She was again rejected, but she had made a brave fight.

Her husband is in 4F. She has no children or relatives in the American armed service.

President of Southern Railway got his start in Arlington Heights

Arthur Wildhagen, former editor of Padlock Publications and who is now with Public Relations of the University of Illinois, recently came across an interesting item about Arlington Heights while reading a little book "The History and Romance of Danville Junction" by C. C. Burford, a local author. Mr. Wildhagen writes:

"Ernest E. Norris, now president of the Southern Railway, began his climb to success as assistant agent of the Northwestern at Arlington Heights. Norris was born at Hoopston, in Vermilion county not far from Danville. He learned telegraphy while working as Western Union messenger during vacations.

"Employed as Western Union operator at Watseka, Ill., where he was fired, the specific charge against him being that the boys and girls of the town congregated in the office to the displeasure of an elderly lawyer who occupied adjoining offices. Incidentally, today Norris is a member of the board of directors of Western Union.

"After being fired at Watseka, Burford relates that Norris began casting about for a new connection. He read in a Chicago newspaper that the assistant station agent of the Chicago and Northwestern railway at Arlington Heights, Ill., had died. Norris, with plenty of youthful nerve, applied in writing to the station agent at Arlington Heights for the job.

"To his amazement he was immediately taken on at $35 a month. He served the Northwestern in various capacities until 1902 when he joined the Southern Railway System as car service agent. He rose through various ranks to become president of the system."

F. Wayman returns old mailing list to publication office

Frank Wayman, of Arlington Heights, returned to the office of Padlock Publications this week a copy of the mailing list loaned to him by the late H. C. Padlock in August, 1911. It is a relic that will be highly prized by the present publishers as from it can be learned the families which have read this paper over a third of a century.

Mr. Wayman used the mailing list 33 years ago to get the addresses of farmers to whom he would mail announcements of his arrival in town with a carload of Iowa cows or horses.

In glancing over the list the editor finds that the majority of those listed on the mailing list have passed on but a great many of their children are still receiving the paper.

The total subscribers in 1911 were about 1700.

Today there are over 8300. The Padlock family has published two of the papers, 44 years, during which four other editions came into being, one of which, Du Page County Register, is over forty years old.

The Cook County Herald is 72 years old and the Palatine Enterprise 67 years old.

The Wayman family is no spring chicken. Samuel Wayman, father of Frank and Levi Wayman, came to America a hundred years ago, settling in this vicinity.

Snow blocked walks delay mail service

Patrons of Arlington Heights postoffice can secure quicker service if they will help the mail man by having their walks cleared of snow. The same thing applies to the patrons of the mounted or rural route. Many people clear out their driveways but leave their mail box banked with snow.

The regulations require a carrier to deliver mail if possible. He is not required to leave his auto or to shovel snow. If his auto can not be driven to the mail box, the carrier must pass it by.

Elementary schools close next Friday; sessions on Feb. 22

In place of taking a double school holiday next week, the Arlington Heights elementary schools and some other grade schools in this vicinity will hold sessions in Washington's birthday, Feb. 22, but will close school on Friday, Feb. 25, when the teachers will attend the midwest session of the Progressive Education association and Association for Family Living (at the Hotel Sherman, Chicago).

Arlington Heights high school will be closed Feb. 22, but will hold sessions the balance of the week.

Offers $25 reward

Arlington Heights Rifle Club is offering a reward of $25 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons who broke into their property east of N. Hickory street and removed certain equipment used by them for pre-induction training.

The theft is in reality an act of sabotage as goods taken were being used in the war effort. Any person knowing the location of the material is urged to phone G. E. Goewey, Arlington Heights 1860.

Just Around the Corner

ELEANOR MILSTEAD

What do you notice first about a person at an initial meeting? Often eyes compel attention, or beauty and strength of facial expression. Sometimes white hair that softens features, sometimes a quietness, a peace, a calmness that outlines an individual with tranquility. Most frequently my interest travels to hands, hands that tell stories, hands that show power and skill and gentleness.

The first time I ever saw John Berchtold, I went to his house on an errand. He was sitting at the kitchen table in his house on Wing street. I don't recall that he was doing anything. Possibly he was looking at a magazine. At any rate, as is usual with me, I looked at his hands. It may have been because I had been told that he made hooked rugs, carved frames and mottoes; it may have been habit, but I don't think so. I think anyone would look at hands like Mr. Berchtold's.

Maybe not though. Maybe you would see his finely modeled, kind, tranquil face. Maybe you would notice his splendid eyes or his white hair. Maybe you would be impressed by the peace that sits with him in the kitchen. Certainly all of these things are there. Certainly one could not overlook them.

But the hands, the strong hands. You would know at once that they had made things, that they had worked well and long for their owner. And they have.

When Mr. Berchtold first went to the house on Wing Street in 1919 after he married his present wife, he carved. Carved amazing things. On one wall in the living room hangs a Home Sweet Home carving. It is so delicately made that the edges resemble old lace. The letters are so nicely spaced, so perfectly cut that they look as if they had been taken separately

'Bill of rights' mass meeting at fieldhouse

A public mass meeting will be held at the Field House Thursday, February 24, at 8 p. m. for the purpose of acquainting the American public with the American Legion 'Bill of Rights' program for World War II veterans, so that pressure will be brought to bear on Congress to pass necessary legislation to provide for the rehabilitation of the men who are fighting this war for us.

The legislation for which the Legion has pledged a vigorous campaign is:

1. Designation of the Veterans Bureau as a "Vital War Agency," with priorities for materials and equipment second only to the War and Navy departments, for Hospital construction.

2. Unemployment compensation credit double the amount Veterans would have received in civilian work through the period of military service.

3. Payment of Federal Aid to States planning to lend Veterans home of farm building funds at low interest rates.

4. Education allowances of $50 monthly to single veterans and $75 to married service men plus all educational expense in established colleges and universities up to four years.

5. "Adequate provision" by the Veterans Bureau for the physical welfare and financial aid of all wounded, diseased or otherwise handicapped veterans before discharge from service.

6. Establishment by the Administrator of Veterans Affairs in each of the States, to aid veterans in finding jobs and to promote the cause of jobs for veterans.

The principal speaker of the evening will be Lawrence J. Fenlon, chairman of the American Legion National employment committee. Mr. Fenlon is thoroughly familiar with the Bill of Rights program as he is one of the national committee who drew up the Bill of Rights. The public is assured of a very interesting address.

Music will be furnished by the Musical ensemble of the High School music department, under the direction of Mr. Donald Costain.

Parents of men in service are particularly invited to attend, as well as the general public.

Agent J.T. Lane
-RAILROADER WITH A WILL TO "CARRY ON"

War days are busy days for "North Western" agents. J. T. Lane at Centerville, South Dakota, is an example. When this 31-year service man isn't selling tickets, or arranging for the shipment of grain or live stock, he's doing any one of a dozen other jobs.

Agent Lane's thoughts, when not on his work, are occupied with something even closer to his heart—his four boys wearing the fighting uniforms of Uncle Sam. Alan, now in Sicily, went through the North African campaign. Claire's in the Air Corps and at present is an instructor at Chanute Field. Leo, who for three years was a "North Western" telegraph operator, is in the Naval Air Force somewhere in the Pacific. Maurice is in training at Camp Kohler, California.

Lane's working philosophy is a wholesome one. Realizing he is an essential unit in America's rail transportation, he's determined to make every working moment count in the Fight for Freedom. Even though miles from the fighting front, he realizes his efforts, plus those of every other railroad worker, count tremendously in the part transportation is playing in winning the war.

So to members of "North Western's" family and to all other patriotic railroaders we say—you're doing a great job—CARRY ON!

Who makes the vitamins you take?

by C. W. LUSSMAN
of Sieburg Pharmacy

There are two essentials that should be observed before you take Vitamins in manufactured form.

The first is to ascertain which one of ones your system requires. Your doctor can furnish that information.

The second is to know the Maker of Vitamins of unswerving accuracy and whose basic supplies come from the best sources.

A conscientious druggist will, without obligation, help you in making a wise selection.

Helen Clodt was born in Westphalia, Germany, August 20, 1851. She came to Chicago the year of the Chicago fire. She married Geo. Feser Jan. 16, 1874, who died 42 years ago. With her son, George J., she moved to Arlington Heights in 1928. She leaves her son, a grandson and a great grandchild.

Julia Trost nee Behnke was born July 11, 1862 in Pomeria, Germany, was baptized and confirmed in Germany and came to the United States at about the age of 18 years and made her home in Chicago.

In the year 1883 she was united in marriage to Mr. Carl Trost. After their marriage they made their home for 2 years on a farm near Highland Grove, and the rest of their lives in and about Arlington Heights and Long Grove.

Mr. Trost passed away in 1922 and a son, Harry passed away in 1922 at the age of 31 years. A son, William passed away in January of this year at the age of 55 years.

Mary von Liski

Mrs. Mary von Liski, mother of Mrs. Herbert Reinshagen, formerly of Stonegate, died at the home of a daughter in Chicago on the seventh of February. She was buried in Elmwood Cemetery in Chicago.

Mrs. von Liski was 83 years old. A touching tribute to her life was the fact that, despite difficulties of traveling, many of the children and grandchildren of old friends and relatives attended the funeral services. People came from Wheaton, Downers Grove and Rockford as evidence that Mrs. von Liski had meant much to them.

The sympathy of the Reinshagen's many friends in Arlington Heights is extended to them.

CARD OF THANKS

With deepest gratitude I extend this word of thanks for the many kind acts of sympathy expressed by thoughtful friends and neighbors to me in the time of my sorrow and bereavement. My appreciation cannot be adequately expressed.

Mrs. Max Teuber.

Tuberculosis differs from other diseases, in that it can be "walked off," so to speak, in the body for years without the infected person's knowledge of its existence.

Then, a combination of circumstances such as poor nutrition, overwork causing undue fatigue, frequent colds and the like may cause body resistance to be lowered sufficiently to break down the "wall" and relegate the tuberculosis germ to begin its destructive work in the lung tissue.

Not so many years ago it was common to hear said that someone "had the flu and it turned into tuberculosis." No disease turns into tuberculosis; but many diseases may weaken the body sufficiently to cause tuberculosis to become active. Each case of the disease results from contact with another, making it important to separate every tuberculosis patient from members of his family and other associates.

For this reason, hospital care is best. While isolation of the patient at home is possible, relatives and friends are likely to forget precautions and call too frequently upon the patient, thinking to give him a "lift." It is forgotten that a sick person may overdo himself talking to visitors. This is particularly harmful to persons sick with tuberculosis when rest is so important.

It is, however, up to the physician in each case to determine whether a patient should be treated in a sanatorium or hospital, or whether he may safely be at home. But usually the sanatorium or hospital is selected for the following reasons:

1. To prevent contact with all persons whom the patient may infect.
2. To facilitate adequate treatment.
3. To have skilled care and supplies available immediately in case of emergencies.
4. To teach the patient how to care for himself and protect others.

Draftees sworn in when reporting to Ft. Sheridan

Men who are inducted into the Army will no longer be sworn in after passing their induction station physical examinations, but will wait until reporting at Fort Sheridan after an interval of at least three weeks. There they will be given a physical inspection to determine any change in their condition.

After passing this check-up they will be sworn into service. This policy is expected to prevent the payment of mustering-out pay to men who have been in the Army only a short time, since those with defects will be eliminated before taking the oath of enlistment.

CARD OF THANKS

I am sincerely grateful to the Mount Prospect fire department for all their help, to Mr. Bierman, Mr. Haberkamp, Mr. Winkelman and Mr. Benson.

Mrs. Max Teuber.

Youth group to give play Sunday

A one-act play, "The Color Line" will be presented by the young people of the Presbyterian church this coming Sunday night at the church. The play will be given in connection with a school of missions that begins at 7:15 p. m.

The play has a clever and interesting plot, built around the relationship of Chinese people with white people. Miss Lorraine Foley is director.

The cast for the play is as follows: Henry Lawson, president of a Western college, played by Bob Williams; Fu Chun, a Chinese student, played by Tom Kurtz; Barbara McKean, daughter of missionaries, played by Cynthia Beckman; Stanley Preston, a senior, played by Bill Williams; Wanda Williams, a good-hearted college flapper, played by Carol Peter; Miss King, the lady passing secretary, played by Betty Davis.

In addition to the play a worship service will be conducted by the Men's Bible Class. Group discussion will be led by Mr. and Mrs. John Monroe and Mrs. Albert Baurer for the young people, adult, and junior groups respectively.

The public is cordially invited to come.

It happened here

The sky is pinkly overcast, the ground and roofs are frosted white and the early dog-walkers move in a rosy glow, owning a dog which must be walked before sun-up must be conducive to good health, giving the devotee a chance to breathe the fairly undiluted air and to exercise leg and arm muscles; it gives him a chance to meet the beauty of the dawn and makes him brother under the skin to the farm chore boy. This is a community of dogs and we know many of our neighbors chiefly thru their dogs that we see on their daily walks. Peter the doctor's dog, Tiny, the Miller's dog, Fanny, the Howison's dog, Chow, the renter's dog and the dog that chases the squirrels. The squirrel, not having to be walked, enjoys his superior position and leaning from branch to branch, taunts the dogs on the leash and chatters a long string of vituperations which we are sorry we cannot translate, not knowing squirrelesque. The young Colorado nephew is a member of the 4-H Club and is the proud owner of Palomar, 4-H Club champion Palomino. His picture appears in the 1944 Annual Record Stockman, a fine presentation of him, coiled rope in hand, seated on his prize winning Palomar. Denver entertained the 4H youngsters lately, Mayor, hotels, movies and stockmen vying to do them honor, as well they might; these boys and girls are the hope of the Nation, yes, of the world. Well done, Summer Hixon!

Mrs. Chas. Crites leaves grade school to be with husband

Mrs. Charles Crites, who has been the second grade teacher at the North school for three years, left her position last week in order to be with her husband, who is an instructor at the navy pier.

They will keep their apartment here for a time, but future plans are uncertain. Mrs. Crites is spending a week now with her family in Charleston, Ill.

She will be greatly missed in the school, both because of her fine teaching and her well ordered influence on the children there.

Miss Hazel Rhode, who is taking Mrs. Crites' place, comes to Arlington from the University of Illinois, where she was recently graduated.

Pass cab bill for higher rates in Des Plaines

Des Plaines city council last week passed a new taxicab ordinance boosting the rates to 25 cents first half mile, 10 cents each additional half, 5c each additional passenger, and 10c each 3 minutes waiting period. Mayor Garland was ready to veto the measure, however, believing the rates were too high. If the veto is forthcoming, a two-thirds vote will be necessary to override. Original vote on the issue was 8 to 2.

Urge action on water problem in Des Plaines

"Soul" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, February 13.
The Golden Text was, "I will greatly rejoice in the Lord, my soul shall be joyful in my God" (Isaiah 61: 10).
Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Ye shall keep my sabbaths, and reverence my sanctuary: I am the Lord, and I will set my tabernacle among you; and my soul shall not abhor you. And I will walk among you, and will be your God, and ye shall be my people" (Lev. 26: 2, 11, 12).
The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Question: What are spirits and souls? Answer: To human belief, they are personalities constituted of mind and matter, life and death, truth and error, good and evil; but these contrasting pairs of terms represent contraries, as Christian Science reveals, which neither dwell together nor assimilate... Soul or Spirit signifies Deity and nothing else. There is no finite soul nor Spirit. Soul or Spirit means only one Mind, and cannot be rendered in the plural" (p. 466).

PTA ladies impressed by lecture of NU prof

It is with great regret that the editor learned this week that Mrs. Atkinson had decided to give up her position as society editor of Arlington Heights Herald. She has been on the staff of the paper eight years. We know that we are going to miss her as much as will the readers of this paper. As a true newspaper woman she did not leave until she had secured a successor. Her copy was always on time, she bore with us when errors were made; she showed great patience, never passing on to the editor complaints that came her way. She was a true newspaper woman. Our THANK YOU is only two words, Edith, but it comes from the bottom of our hearts.

"Change is the only constant thing in life," Dr. Howard A. Lane, associate professor of education at Northwestern University told the members of the Parent Teachers association who met at the north school Tuesday night.

Because this is true, and because our twentieth century has been one of profound and rapid change in transportation, communication and protection and preservation of health, the home, school and community must equip itself to accommodate these changes. When such adjustments are not made the "nation, the school, the home and the town fall sick, civilization disintegrates and chaos and catastrophe result."

Dr. Lane, in one of the wisest and wittiest speeches heard for some time in Arlington Heights, pointed out that there are a few basic human needs and values which, thru the centuries have changed the least and that it is upon teaching these values that our nation must bend its efforts. The values that all people everywhere find essential to their well being are:

1. The favorable reaction of their fellow beings; in other words "friendship."
2. Self respect: a liking and approval of themselves.
3. Fun: what the sociologists call zestful experience (Dr. Lane says not from comic books or carnivals).
4. Art: defined as the satisfactory doing of something with evident results (scrubbing, canning beans, washing dishes can be art!)
5. Religion—faith in the universe, in ultimate good (children get this from security of home and school)

Careful attention to the development of these values, the substitution of their teaching for the war-play and war-mindedness of our children will help to counteract the desolating influences of the "bloodiest century the world has ever known." The fact that the people of this century are also the best educated, just doesn't make

London Prefers Machine Tickets

Seventy per cent of London's subway passengers now prefer to buy tickets from machines than offices.

One woman repeated appreciatively Dr. Lane's remark that "good housekeeping is the most serious single blight on childhood."

A man said that he felt as one with the speaker when he stated that "I don't feel war-like. I haven't 'fit' anybody for thirty years."

Another man was impressed with Dr. Lane's use of a quotation from Carl Sandburg's "The People, Yes!" in concluding his speech. The core of the quotation was that people, everywhere, are pretty much what you expect them to be and that they will justify either a good or bad belief in them.

The general feeling that Dr. Lane had said in the short time in which he spoke many, many things that most people have been thinking for a long time, said them effectively, with no superfluous words and with much sparkle, that his talk will be long remembered here.

Tuesday night's program was a memorable one for other reasons. To celebrate the national founding of P. T. A., a beautiful candle lighting ceremony was enacted emphasizing the importance of the home, the church, the school and the community, working together everywhere for the welfare of children. It dramatized the real meaning of the Parent Teacher's association. The four children who took part in the candle lighting were: Bob Mook, Jean Baldwin, Dick Sturm and Frances Hubbard. Mrs. Rex Volz read.

Kenneth Busse, violinist, accompanied by Miss Beatrice Paszotta, South school's sixth grade teacher, played four numbers: "Rondino and Capice Viennois" by Fritz Kreisler; the celebrated Menuet by L. Boccherini and Walther's Prize Song from Du Meistersinger by Wagner.

Arlington Heights people are always greatly pleased with Mr. Busse's playing. The patrol boy led the pledge of allegiance to the flag.

Mrs. Paul Collins, president, announced that Miss Sapp is to be the new historian and that the

New society editor to take over next week

The club and society editorship of the Arlington Heights Herald will be assumed by Mrs. Kenneth Millstead of Arlington Heights with next week's issue of the paper. Mrs. Millstead is well qualified to take over the job, which has been held for the past seven years by Mrs. Raymond Atkinson, who finds it necessary at this time to resign, due to many other duties.

Mrs. Millstead is a graduate of Columbia University, and has studied journalism, and is well liked by all with whom she associates.

It is with regret that the society and club editor feels it necessary to pen the above notice, for she has enjoyed her weekly contact with so many of the good neighbors of Arlington Heights and the surrounding territory. It has been fun and a heart-warming experience, not soon to be forgotten, to have a small part in the many activities of the community, to be in on the "ground floor" on wedding plans, to be among the first to congratulate parents on their newest "small fry," to hear of inspiring vacation trips, to talk to mothers of boys in service, and to work with publicity chairmen of the various civic, social and religious organizations in the village. She is indeed grateful for the splendid cooperation which she has so generously been given in the past, and is asking that this same measure of cooperation be extended to the new editor.

It has also been fun to be part of the Paddock Newspaper family and the shop personnel and association will be keenly missed by the editor.

Edith W. Atkinson.

About that snow plow—

It appears to the club editor that "old man weather" and father time called a double check on Bill Luehring's "dare" to snow, published in last week's paper. The printer's ink was hardly dry on the paper before darkening skies, and that soft fluffy "stuff" called snow, of which we previously had seen so little, began gently to descend.

Its descent may have been gentle, but it was also steady, and before the Luehring story could be read by the men of Arlington Heights, they had to wade through drifts to their knees, or leave stalled cars after frantic digging was of no avail, to reach their friendly hearth, and the story that Arlington Heights was ready for snow.

Bill got busy with the plow all right, and did a splendid job, although many commuters found it necessary to plow by foot to the station the next morning or so, due to closed driveways, and blocked side streets.

The village folks are glad that the plow is ready, Bill, but perhaps it would be wise to keep it a deep dark secret, and not tempt the elements to such colossal proportion in "calling a dare."

Fidelis to meet Tuesday evening

The Fidelis Circle of the Methodist church will meet on Tuesday evening in the church parlor. Mrs. H. J. Gregg, program chairman, has arranged to have the group work on sewing for the war effort and it is hoped a good crowd will be on hand to get some needed work out.

Hostesses for the evening will be Mrs. Robert Dibble and Mrs. Erwin Rahm.

Former pastor to be here Sunday

Rev. Chester Loughlin, former pastor of the Methodist church, will preach at the Sunday morning service. His topic will be: "The Price of Peace." He will be happy to greet old friends.

Rev. Loughlin is now the associate treasurer of the Board of Education of the Methodist church where he and his family are now located at Nashville, Tenn.

ER of PEO has negro culture program

ER chapter of the P. E. O. Sisterhood enjoyed a very fine program Monday evening when Mrs. B. M. Prather and Mrs. Louis Goodfellow of Evanston presented a program on Negro Literature and Culture. The program was arranged to cover the part of American history of the civil war era, in conjunction with the year's program on American history.

Mrs. Prather gave the literary and dramatic aspect of negro development in America and read a number of negro poems by Dunbar, Johnson and Hallway. Mrs. Prather is a graduate of Simpson college, where she majored in speech and dramatics. She taught dramatics in high school prior to her marriage.

Mrs. Goodfellow talked on negro music and demonstrated in music Dett's "Slub," a negro rhythm, typical of the black race. She also sang and played negro spirituals and told of their background. She brought out the interesting fact that since the time of the Egyptians, all repressed people have written their music in the pentameter, a five tone scale.

Mrs. Goodfellow is a graduate of Northwestern University and did graduate work there in music. She has appeared on "Hymns of All Churches" radio broadcast and is prominent in other musical circles of the north shore. Her voice is a lovely contralto. Her husband is a professor of psychology at Northwestern.

A social hour and refreshments followed the program. The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. R. E. Atkinson.

Local 'Bundles' unit members given pins

Workers for the Bundles for America, are awarded gold pins for 250 hours of service, silver pins for 50 hours of service, and stars are added to the points of the pin for 250 hours of service.

Many members of the Arlington Heights unit are proud wearers of the gold and silver pins, and at the meeting on Wednesday morning in the Field House, Mesdames Robert Palmer, R. Davis, O. Johnson, E. Plontke, C. Jahn and Miss T. Johnson were awarded gold pins.

Mrs. Sam Baker has given more than 2000 knitting hours alone to the war effort of the Bundles for America.

Those who are entitled to silver pins are asked to contact Mrs. Karl Jahn, who will place the order.

Any one in the community wishing to do sewing or knitting for the war effort is cordially invited to come to the Bundles meetings on Wednesday morning in the Field house. The group plans to meet all day, on Wednesday next week, to cut out layettes for the wives of navy and army men.

The group discussed plans for an evening card party shortly after lunch, at their meeting on Wednesday morning. Details will be published later.

St. James guild to entertain

The Prospect Heights chapter of the St. James Women's Guild as well as the husbands of members, will be guests of the St. James Guild proper, at their regular meeting on February 22nd.

A report of the various committees heading the arrangements for the annual Easter Monday card party will be announced, according to the general chairman Mrs. Andrew Horcher.

The refreshments committee for the guild meetings is headed by Mesdames John Annen, Ronald Ackerman, E. Amann, L. Astrup, F. Bittner, P. Brehm and C. Weidner.

A pleasant evening with a lovely program is assured to all who attend.

OES women help at servicemen's center

The members of the Order of Eastern Star of Arlington Heights have given three days of service this week to the Masonic Service Men's Center at 912 North LaSalle St. in Chicago.

The center is operated by the Masonic Order of Illinois and is supported by the Masonic lodges of the state, including those of the metropolitan area. The members of the O. E. # VICTORY BY FAITH

*"This Is The Victory That Overcometh The World Even
Our Faith." 1 John 5, 4.*

Victory is the heart's desire of many people today. And the price that we human beings are willing to pay for victory has not yet found its ceiling.

But children of God know that a victory by armed power at whatever cost will not "overcome the world." We can raise the liberty-bringing stars and stripes over all oppressed countries till there is no outward tyrant left - and pay for it by blood and mangling and death - yet inwardly men will not be freed from the slavery of sin.

Only He Who let the soldiers bind Him and fasten Him to the cross and Who gave Himself to be held by the bonds of death for three days can set men free. He Who was made a curse for us took the souls of men and by His blood made them clean from the sin that corrupts them. He is the One mighty to save, - - Jesus Christ our Savior.

Only through faith in Him can we find the "victory that overcometh the world." In Him is the power "to bind the broken-hearted, to proclaim liberty to the captives, and the opening of the prison to them that are bound - to comfort all that mourn, - to give unto them beauty for ashes, the oil of joy for mourning, the garment of praise for the spirit of heaviness." Isaiah 61, 1-3.

There are so many "broken-hearted," so many "bound," so many "that mourn." The Lenten Season of 1944 is made for them.

Commissioned

Richard V. Julian, son of Mrs. A. R. Eddington, Wilmette, received his pilot's wings and commission as second lieutenant in the Army Air Forces at Pecos, Texas, last week Tuesday. At present he is home on leave and Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Eddington held open house for him. This week Lt. Julian visited his grandfather, C. E. Julian in Palatine.

Florida

Herman Fues of Mt. Prospect has been transferred to Pensacola, Florida, to continue training as a naval aviation cadet. Herman was home on leave just recently. Upon his return to Ottumwa, Iowa, he was sent to Florida. He spent an hour between trains in Chicago Saturday with his dad.

Tennessee

Corporal Roy Winkelman of Mt. Prospect arrived home last week Tuesday for a week's furlough from duties at Memphis, Tennessee.

Pacific

A letter from Wm. V. Mykytiuk, Mo. M.M. 3/c mailed from an advanced allied base somewhere in the Pacific, was received in Wheeling the 14th. Writing of his location, Bill says, "The Islands are rather woody and wild. Plenty of birds (parrots mostly) lizards and insects of all kinds. The weather is rather warm all the time, or should I say hot. Pains frequently and when it rains it sure does rain. Work every day; hardly know one day from the next. Do a little fishing while riding around in our boat. Movies two or three times a week is about all the recreation we have. Mail call is one of the big moments of the day." Like the other boys in the service and especially those overseas he enjoys his copies of the Cook County Herald. The rest of his address is Dept. 3, Navy 811 c/o Fleet P. O. San Francisco, Cal.

Atlantic

Sergeant John Forke of the Air Transport Command, North Atlantic Wing is hoping to be lucky enough to come home to Wheeling on furlough soon. He is enjoying his work at the base where they are located and reports a very pleasant Christmas and New Years, with turkey dinners on both occasions. The Herald with news of home and fellow servicemen is greatly appreciated, too.

Panama

William A. Jensen of Palatine, commanding officer of a tow target squadron of the Sixth Air Force in the Panama area has been promoted from the grade of captain to that of major.

Maj. Jensen has served in the Caribbean area for the past 24 months. He was named squadron commander in November, 1943, and prior to his assumption of this command served in various operations.

From England this week comes word from Pvt. Arnold E. Lichthardt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Aug. H. Lichthardt of Elgin.

Don is a graduate of Arlington Heights high school and Monmouth college. He began his military training in Sept. 1941 at Fort Warren, Wyoming, and won his sergeant's stripes at Perrin Field, Texas in the spring 1942.

At the completion of an officer candidates course in air corps administration, Don received his commission as 2nd Lieutenant in Sept. 1942, and was assigned to the Personnel Dept. of the First Fighter Command at Mitchell Field where he advanced to first lieutenant a year ago.

Bluejacket Charles W. Bock, S-2/c, 218 W. Slade St., Palatine, completed his recruit training February 8 at naval training station, Sampson, N.Y., on the shores of Seneca Lake and will be granted leave.

Upon his return to Sampson, he will be eligible for further assignment which may qualify him for a petty officer rating.

Dougald Gilbert of Mt. Prospect, who has been in the navy since January 21, is now stationed at Sampson, New York.

Nevada

Frank J. DeBerge Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. DeBerge, 311 N. Hale, Palatine, has been promoted to the grade of sergeant at Army Air Field, Tonopah, Nev., it was announced by Col. Jacob W. McCrillis, commanding officer.

A graduate of Palatine high school and the University of Illinois, Sgt. DeBerge entered the Army Air Forces on Dec. 18, 1942. He later attended the Army Classification school at Brookings, South Dakota.

Sgt. DeBerge is assigned to the 413th Base Headquarters and Air Base squadron as a classification specialist.

England

Writing from England is Edward Mann of Palatine.

"Got only one Christmas package but know more are on the way. The one I did receive was the plough boy tobacco, and was sure appreciated."

"Here in England the farmers are still plowing. All the grain is put away and cabbage is still growing. It rains a lot but there are no killing frosts."

"Everyone here has to work, more so than at home. The hired men on the farms are all women. They belong to the woman's land army and wear brown work uniforms. The ones here that don't work or have a family have to go into one of the various government services."

"Weather here the last few days has been very bad. It rains a lot with quite a wind behind it. We work every day of the week, though we laid off Sunday, first in a long time. Everything here is rationed."

"We sleep in squad tents and I am writing this letter by candlelight."

His address is Cpl. Edward Mann, 36303771, APO 230 c/o P.M. New York, N.Y.

He makes his home with his parents. S/Sgt. Page has been overseas 13 months.

Now stationed on an island in the south Pacific, possibly New Britain, is John Heidemann of Arlington Heights.

It has been some time since I have received the Herald, and I am looking forward to receiving it and finding out what is happening in the home town. The last copy that I received was in the middle of November and sure would like to know what is happening in town, how the high school basketball team is doing, and where the other fellows are stationed and what they have to say.

"While I was stationed in New Caledonia there was a hurricane, and the wind blew with a great force, driving the rain. You had to wear something for when the rain hit you, it hurt. The fellows fought to keep their tents up. Some of them toppled, others ripped, and those that were standing sagged. The wind bent the flag pole, tore parts of the roof, and did other damage. A small creek overflowed, and added to the misery of the men with more mud and water. The next day the fellows were busy repairing their tents, putting up new ones, and hanging out their clothes and bedding to dry."

"This is the raining season here, and it has been raining quite often. It seems every hour, and it is very muddy. They have movies here, and if you don't mind sitting in the rain you can attend them. It sure is great to see movies out here."

"I am looking forward to receiving the Herald and finding out what is going on, so please send them regularly."

His address is Pfc. John Heidemann, Office of Corps Paymaster, c/o PPO, San Francisco, California.

Bank nets $30

Traveling bank at Arlington Heights last week netted Bob Helfers $30, bringing the bank total to $2,024.

2024

His address is Cpl. Edward Doyle, 36359354 APO 928 Unit-1, c/o APO 321, PM, San Francisco, Cal.

Virginia

Wally Cramer of Palatine writes from Camp Peary, Virginia.

"Having the first breathing spell in a month, with no classes for two days. It's a mental relief not having to plan classes and wonder how I'm going to get them all in. Today has been a lazy day. There is never anything to do on Sunday except eat, sleep and take in a movie."

His address is W. E. Cramer, CM-3/c, Ships Co. IMTS, Camp Peary, Va.

Idaho

Norman Bucher of Wheeling left Feb. 9 for service in the Navy. He is stationed at the training station at Farragut, Idaho. His wife and small son will remain at their present address and Norman's father is making his home with them.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS HERALD SECTION TWO + SPORTS + MOVIES + WANT ADS

California

Writing from California is George Sventanoff of Arlington Heights.

"I've been receiving the Herald for 20 months now, and in spite of my moving from one camp to another, it has been delivered to me without much delay. I think the service men's pages are very good. It's just like a letter from home."

"Just got through with the desert maneuvers here in Southern California and in a week or so will leave for another camp in the east."

"The weather here has been swell for the past two weeks but I wouldn't care to stay much longer, 'cause it gets quite hot here at times."

"My new address is: Pfc. George Sventanoff 36359323 95th Signal Co. A.P.O. 95 Indiantown Gap Military Res. Penn."

Pfc. Roland Fenz of Roselle is now stationed at Fort Ord, California awaiting shipment overseas. Pfc. Fenz graduated Jan. 6th from the Cavalry School in Advanced Radio and Communications at Ft. Riley, Kansas. This school is recognized as the best of its kind in the country.

Pfc. Fenz received special recommendation from Col. Merishade, administrative head of the school, and a rating of Superior. He was chosen a member of "Sabers and Sparks" honorary scholastic organization of the Cavalry school.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Fenz, Roselle.

Harry Kowalski, formerly of Palatine, is now in the army and stationed at San Francisco, California.

Harry graduated from Palatine high school and lived there for several years, prior to moving to Chicago. Beginning this week he will be another Palatine serviceman to receive the Enterprise with the compliments of the Legion and Auxiliary.

His address is Pvt. Harry Kowalski, 36612547, Btry. C, 246th AAA S/L Bn., San Francisco, Cal.

Oscar Laurance S-2/c, called his wife in Wheeling by telephone from San Diego, California, on Sunday. He arrived there Thursday and was enjoying the warm, sunny weather after the cold wet weather he left at Farragut, Idaho. Oscar will be spending the next few months attending classes at a Torpedo school.

Oscar Laurance, S-2/c, of Wheeling, called his wife from Farragut, Idaho recently. He had been marking time since returning to camp after his leave. He was leaving camp on Monday, presumably for San Diego, California.

Now aboard ship cruising between San Francisco and San Diego, California, is Don Field of Palatine. His new address is D. E. Field EM 3/c, Brks N c/o PPO, San Francisco, Cal.

New Guinea

From New Guinea comes word of Edward Doyle of Arlington Heights.

"Got fifteen letters yesterday and trying to answer some immediately. Am in good health and feeling fine. There for awhile I was writing to pass the time, but now that we have more men we are working all different shifts and getting down to business. We're taking care of supplies and office work, including putting in lights and telephone lines."

"Not much Christmas spirit here except for the turkey dinner. I heard there wasn't much at home, either, with so many boys gone. Island I was formerly stationed on had movies at night. But now we are in a combat area. Japs came over the first week but always missed the target they were aiming at."

"Have seen Bob Helfers quite a bit. He and I aren't in the same platoon but we get together quite often. Have decided I'd rather stay here than go back to the states for the present for we have a regular little town set up here. Only reason I'd like to be home is the food."

"Weather here isn't too bad, outside of the rainy season we're now having. A couple of fellows and myself had a foxhole, and when the rain came the foxhole filled to the top."

His address is Cpl. Edward Doyle, 36359354 APO 928 Unit-1, c/o APO 321, PM, San Francisco, Cal.

Virginia

Wally Cramer of Palatine writes from Camp Peary, Virginia.

"Having the first breathing spell in a month, with no classes for two days. It's a mental relief not having to plan classes and wonder how I'm going to get them all in. Today has been a lazy day. There is never anything to do on Sunday except eat, sleep and take in a movie."

Idaho

Norman Bucher of Wheeling left Feb. 9 for service in the Navy. He is stationed at the training station at Farragut, Idaho. His wife and small son will remain at their present address and Norman's father is making his home with them.

So. America

Edward Blaskiewicz, son of the Marshal Blaskiewicz, Prospect Heights, has just been released from the hospital, following an attack of malaria. Eddie is with the army air corps somewhere in South America and was a radio operator on a bomber up to the time of his illness.

He has a subscription to the Herald and writes that although his mail isn't so regular, his copy of the paper is, and he enjoys reading the news from Prospect Heights. He said it took a war to make him appreciate a small town paper and now the arrival of the Herald brings him some of his happiest moments.

Massachusetts

Writing this week from Boston, Massachusetts, is Bill Schoepke of Arlington Heights.

"Just received word of the death of Dick, that A-1 linotype operator of yours. It came as quite a shock. I can imagine how much his loss will be felt at the shop."

"Things here in Boston are the same as ever. It's cold now but I expect it will be better in March."

His address is Pfc. W. Schoepke, 301 Port Co., 518 Port Bn., Army Base, Boston, 10, Mass.

Camps included in his ten month's service include Keeler field, Mississippi, Penn State college, Pennsylvania, Nashville, Tennessee, Maxwell field, Alabama, Lacon, Florida, Moody field, Tyndall field, Florida and back to Moody. He won his gunner's wings at Tyndall.

Roy's plans for the future await the opening of a bombardier school in New Mexico. He expects to leave for New Mexico shortly after returning to Moody.

YOUR FUTURE AT DOUGLAS

SIX AIR LINES CHOOSE DOUGLAS C-54 SKYMASTER

Now being used to transport men and equipment to far-flung battle fronts, the huge Douglas C-54 will be converted for post-war commercial use by American, Eastern, Pan-American, and Pan American-Grace, Western and United Airlines.

These six airlines are the first to announce officially the type of equipment that will be used in air transport operations after the war. The commercial version of the C-54 is expected to reduce present long distance travel time by one fourth.

Powered with four Pratt and Whitney engines totalling 4400 horsepower the C-54 will carry fifty-five passengers plus mail and express with a cruising speed of 220 miles an hour. This is approximately 50 m.p.h. faster than the twin-engine DC-3 now standard on the nation's airways.

MAC SAYS:

BY GERALD A. McELROY

Very little basketball was played in this area last week. The snow storm of Thursday and Friday morning scared out all except a few schools who as it turned out had very little difficulty in making their scheduled trips. The roads were all open but it did not look like they would be on Friday morning. Barrington played it smart in going to Antioch on schedule rather than making up the game in midweek as they will be better prepared for Palatine this Friday as a result. Why some of the games were postponed

GREAT CAGE EXHIBIT AT STADIUM SATURDAY

Saturday night we saw the great doubleheader at the Stadium in which Illinois gave a superlative exhibition in whipping DePaul by 12 points while Camp Grant played near perfect ball to take a great Northwestern team 51-43. During the second game we remarked to J. E. Stutzman and Howard Stinson that we wished our basketball boys could have been there to see the wonderful team play and the ball handling of Illinois, Camp Grant, and Northwestern. As we came out after the games we saw nearly all the varsity and lightweight players of Palatine also leaving.

NW. vs. NE. AT CRYSTAL LAKE

Two winning streaks are in danger of being broken Saturday night at Crystal Lake when Elia of Lake Zurich, current Northwest leader taking on Coach Niles' speedy Tigers. Neither team has been beaten since the Christmas holidays and each has lost only once this season. It brings together top teams of Northwest and Northeast and our hope points to a Crystal Lake victory. We figure the only way Elia can win is to gain control of the ball and slow down the Lakers. This is mighty hard to do. This is one of the headline games of the year in this area. Now if Crystal Lake, and Niles, both of the Northeast, could get together to decide the mythical championship, that would really be a game. We are still wondering which is really the better team and deserving of our pick as the unofficial winner. We will wait until the tournaments are over to get a better measure of their respective talent as we will see Niles perform in the Libertyville regional.

TRACK TALENT IN N.W. LOOP

From all we are able to learn, the track talent in the Northwest Conference will hit a low point this season. Nearly every school is unusually short on veteran material. Three or four lettermen is the best at any school in a sport which requires a squad of about 20 boys. At Palatine, ineligibility, draft, and dropping out of school has eliminated eight boys out of 11 returning varsity squad members. Palatine is faced with the prospect of having not a single experienced sprinter. All the varsity and Fresh-Soph relay runners of last season are lost to this year's team. Bensenville lost most of their best boys by moving away or quitting school. Probably Antioch has the best returning lettermen, and given support from new boys might be the team to break Palatine's track monopoly in the league. It is only six weeks until the Oak Park Relays and two months until the Palatine, Bensenville, Antioch triangular meet which opens the local season. Track requires a good month of work before the first meet so it won't be long until the thin clads start working.

Big Eight Strong This Season

Four schools from the Big Eight Conference are among the leading 15 basketball teams in Illinois prep circles according to the ratings published this week by Pat Harmon of the Champaign News-Gazette.

East Aurora ranks third and Elgin fourth. Freeport is 11th and E. Rockford gets the 12th position. Taylorville sports an undefeated record in 31 games has led in the state rating ever since the Christmas holidays and is the favorite to cop the state title. However no undefeated team has ever turned the trick in this state. Robinson is the only other major unbeaten team to be considered as a state contender. Thornton of Harvey has not lost

Ladd leads Ela in win over Cards

By Joe Smart

Coach Wesner's "Bears" duplicated an earlier contest with the cards by decidedly trouncing them 43-26 at Ela Monday night. Jim Ladd, stalwart center for the Bears, notched seventeen points, running his total to thirty in the two games with Arlington this season.

The Cards got off to a slow start and trailed 7-1 at the quarter. During the second quarter the Bears proceeded to pull away and led at the intermission 24-9. The last half was more evenly played, the Cards being outscored by only one basket. Besides J. Ladd's seventeen points, Holland had ten for the Bears. Botterman and Kohler topped the Cardinals with six apiece.

Tornadoes Win 26-16

The Tornadoes won their seventh game Monday from Ela 26-16. The Cubs pulled away to a 4-0 lead in the first period but the half ended with the "Green and White" on top 12-6. This margin was increased 20-13 at the three-quarter mark. Chard led the field with eight markers while Kane was getting seven for Ela. As usual the Tornadoes free throwing was bad missing all of the nine attempts.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 18, 1944

The Ela game Monday night further emphasized several well known facts about Arlington Cardinals. Although the Cards lost, they once again displayed flashes of their latent ability. They rebounded well, proved to be good ball handlers, and took a surprising number of shots — many more than the Ela squad did. The Card quintet successfully stifled Ela's "hotshot" Chuck Rudy, but a misunderstanding in assignments upset the appereat and permitted a strong Ela rally at a crucial moment in the game.

In the second half, the Cards reverted to their early season brand of basketball and allowed the chatter and play of the other team to get under their skin. As soon as this occurred the issue was decided and Ela coasted home an easy winner.

It is true that the Cardinals controlled the game the first half and took a great number of shots which refused to go in, but the Junior-Varsity in exactly the identical situation kept playing and shooting and eventually began to hit. The J. V.'s completely dominated the game and richly deserved to win. Congratulations!

COMMENTS

Referee Ross to "Chuck" Page: "If you boys would concentrate on playing basketball and forget everything else, you'd place in the state tournament!"

Coach Seidler: "It's just the little things that beat us. A missed play at the wrong time and tough luck at the baskets. I said earlier in the season that we needed experience and I believe that we are reaching our quota. It won't be long now!"

An Arlington Fan: "I certainly liked the way the boys muzzled Rudy. He was covered like a blanket."

OBSERVATION

The postponement of the Leyden and Warren games gave the writer the opportunity to see the college double header at the stadium Saturday night. In the DePaul-Silvino contest, the DePaul Demons consistently demonstrated characteristics which exemplified some of our local cage troubles. Desperate to win, the Demons resorted to rough play and continually baited the referees and their opponents, but to no avail. The result was inevitable. The Cardinals played just such a game against Ela. Let's forget everything except basketball, boys, and finish up right.

SIDELINES

Maybe I'm supersensitive, but I noticed at the doubleheader that all four teams involved used some form of revolving offense.

I wonder why Coach Seidler and all of the varsity players have crew cuts?

Hear tell the Leyden game will be played off at Leyden next Monday evening.

There is a rumor floating around that some of the boys are slipping in the classroom. Better get on the boys!

Bob McCardle reports to Northwestern University March 1 to enter the V12 program. Good luck, Bob!

INSPIRATION

Here is a poem that really strikes home. If our athletes and our fans can subscribe to it wholeheartedly we shall definitely be on the road to athletic prosperity and our boys can find the real and lasting benefits to be derived from participation in sports.

THE BEST
Did you fail in the race?
Did you faint in the sport?
Where the hot dust choked and burned?
Did you breast the tape midst the flying dirt?
That the leader's spikes had spurred?
Did you do your best—Oh, I know you lost,
I know that your time was bad,
But the game is not in the winning, lad,
The best of it since the beginning, lad,
Is in taking your licking and grinning, lad,
If you gave them the best you had.

Did your tackle fall short?
Did the runner flash by?
With the score that won the game?
Did it break your heart when you missed the try?
Did you choke with the dust and shame?
If you did your best—Oh! I know the score—
I followed you all the way through,
And that is why I am saying, lad,
That the best of the fight is the staying, lad,
And the best of all games is the playing, lad,
If you gave them the best in you.

Douglas five vs Coast Guard this Sunday

This coming Sunday the Douglas Flyers bring to Arlington Heights another fine basketball team. South Chicago Coast Guards will serve as the opposition for the Flyers. The Coast Guards have a fine fast ball club star studded with some fine boys from colleges and pro ranks. They have beaten some of the better teams in Chicago two of which were the Chicago University Radio school and Wilson Avenue Y.M.C.A. George Kouzmanoff, booking agent for this club, promises to bring a team to Arlington Sunday that will make the Flyers play superb ball if they intend to win.

The Flyers, managed and coached by R. Rowbottom, come again to Arlington with a fine record of 32 victories out of 38 games. They have beaten such teams as Fort Sheridan, Camp McCoy, Belmont Radio, Danly Machine and many others. The Flyers are trying to restore good basketball in Arlington and hope the people will retaliate by coming out Sunday and support a good card.

The preliminary game will be played at 2:15 with the Douglas Girls playing Mico Switch Girls from Freeport, Illinois. A girls game is always an exciting and laughable spectacle so try and make the first game.

The admission for this double header is only 50 cents a person, tax included. Game time 2:15 p.m. Sunday, February 20.

LOOKING AHEAD

Next week Arlington plays Niles and Leyden. You Cardinals CAN win. Let's go out and collect a couple of scalps! Have confidence in yourself, your team, your coach and your school. When you shoot—KNOW it's going in; when you pass KNOW it's going true; when you play—KNOW you'll do your best. And you will! Your best is a lot better than you think it is. We believe in you, Cards. Go out and prove we're right!

Palatine travels to Barrington Friday

Pirates seek to make 10 in row

Friday night when Palatine travels to Barrington they will be trying to make it 10 straight over the Bronchos. It will be the last game of the regular season for both teams and since the Pirates won earlier in the season 31-29 in two overtimes, it shapes up as quite a battle. The Pirates can make it 10 straight if they can stop Gaulke reasonably well since he has set the scoring pace and is the sparkplug of the Barrington team.

The lightweight game as usual between Barrington and Palatine is a championship battle. The Bronchos are a game ahead in first place. If Palatine wins it is a tie for the title. If Barrington wins they have the junior championship undisputed. The pressure is very much on Palatine in this game as the Ponies have at least a share of the title sewed up. Palatine took Barrington to a decisive leading in the one game their lights have lost this year. On that occasion they were minus their big center who was sick, though the way Palatine was going at the time that probably would not have made so much difference. Right now both teams seem to be in top form so the preliminary game Friday night may steal the show from the varsity for interest and closeness of the score.

Starting in the 1939-40 season when Palatine won the first of four consecutive varsity championships the Pirates have a perfect record against the Barrington cagers. Before the 1939-40 the two schools split even in their annual series for five straight seasons. Prior to that time Barrington had a big edge over the Pirates in games won and lost.

Here is the Palatine streak. Can the team of 1943-44 which is not in the conference running keep up the record that only changes have maintained? That will be determined Friday night.

Armed forces to gain 800,000 by July 1

Services to top 11 million; 10 million in munitions

The War Manpower Commission has done some figuring, and has a fair idea of what's going to happen in the first half of the year. The armed services will get a net increase of 800,000, raising their enrollment to 11,300,000 by midyear. Munitions industries will continue to employ about 9,800,000 persons, and "indirect" war industries will require a few more workers.

The WMC sees no great overall difficulty in achieving these figures. But evidence is growing that, by regions or even localities, troubles are likely to arise. Already, there's a case history in the making, provided by Lowell, Mass., a city whose depression began in the early 1920's, when textiles slumped in New England. When war production began, Lowell's idle labor was utilized by making it an ordnance center. But cutbacks came, and when 50-calibre ammunition contracts ended, Lowell had unemployment again. Local business men sought new industries, while industries at some distance sought to lure away the labor. The position now is that the people of Lowell are awaiting expectantly the start of two new war factories (in existing buildings) hopeful that they will take up the slack caused by the ammunition cutback.

All of which suggests that planning must be local as well as national.

Air roof

Last July, a consulting engineer—Herbert H. Stevens, Jr.—went to the War Production Board with an idea. He wanted to make roofs for warehouses without framework or supports. He believed this could be done, and that it would save a good deal of time and steel. The WPB listened, then commissioned the New York University College of Engineering to investigate the possibilities of Stevens' invention.

The engineering school has now constructed such a roof on a small scale experimental size and reported that it has found it practicable to build for use as a storehouse. The roof, made of thin, flat sheet steel soldered to a steel ring base, was inflated with air from an air pressure pump, forming a dome-shaped building. Tests and calculations indicate that it could be constructed more quickly and cheaply than a regular steel and wood warehouse, with less use of strategic materials.

Raisins, cheese

An additional 54 million pounds of raisins from the 1943 pack is being released for U.S. civilian use, by WFA. This action makes 336 million pounds of raisins released to civilians from the 1943 pack. Cheese supplies in 1944 will be divided so as to make available for civilians about four pounds per capita, or one pound less than they received during 1943. About five million more pounds of cheese have been allocated to U.S. servicemen than they used last year, an increase necessary mainly to provide milk nutrients for the large number of soldiers overseas.

Air transport

The U. S. Naval Air Transport Service conducts scheduled military transport services over a trans-oceanic and overland network of more than 65,000 miles. In addition, the transport service conducts tens of thousands of miles monthly in special and emergency military transport. In 25 months the transport service has grown from one flying boat to 10 full transport squadrons, several ferry units, and large contract operations by Pan American Airways System and American Export Airlines.

Farm machinery

Farm machinery production for the year beginning July 1, will be about the same as for the current year, but the War Production Board warns that the recent schedule issued may be altered any time should circumstances demand such action. More than one million tons of carbon steel production is now tentatively earmarked for the American farmer.

Dairy payments

WFA says dairy payments at present rates will be continued up to February 17, and beyond that they will depend upon congressional action. Cider vinegar will cost approximately three cents a quart more at retail. A 20 per cent increase—under a new OPA regulation to compensate processors and packers for increased raw material costs. Local rationing boards may now issue an interim coupon sheet enabling a consumer to buy fuel oil while OPA investigates the loss or theft of his ration sheet. Retail prices increased per pound of three cents for sea scallops, five cents for lemon sole, and 16 cents for lemon sole filets are expected as a result of wholesale price increases allowed by OPA. Manufacture of 400,000 aluminum pressure canners, one size holding seven 'one-quart glass jars, and another size holding 14 one-quart jars, has been authorized by WPB, provided there is no interference with munitions manufacture. To increase horse collar production, WPB has issued special instructions to manufacturers to bring about the increase.

Civilians will get slightly more edible fats and oils products per person in 1944 than they had on the average in 1935-39, according to WFA. They will get slightly less butter, however. OPA predicts a larger supply of lower-priced rayon knit garments and lower prices for or better quality in such garments. Rather than make loans for purchase of farm land at inflation prices, Farm Security Administration County Committees have been instructed by FSA to turn back their money. The action was taken to insure that the program will protect applicants from acquiring land debts that would ruin them later on. Maximum prices for producers' sales of the 1944 broomcorn crop will be the same as for the 1943 crop, $300 a ton for "shed-cured" broomcorn and $250 for all other broomcorn.

Rice

The 1943 rice crop of the Western Hemisphere was more than 200 million bushels, almost double the production of 15 years ago. Of the 1943 crop, 55 per cent was grown in South America, 37 per cent in North America, 4 per cent in Central America and 4 per cent in the Caribbean area. Expansion of Western Hemisphere rice growing has been particularly rapid since the Japs invaded Burma, French Indo-China, and Thailand. Before the war, these countries supplied 95 per cent of the rice entering international trade.

Autos, tires

February quota of new passenger automobiles is 10,000, two-thirds of the January quota, and of new bicycles is 7,500, one half the January quota, the Office of Price Administration has announced. Except for a decrease of approximately one-fourth in the number of used and reclaimed (grade III) passenger tires, February quotas for tires and tubes are about the same as for January. Essential truck operators in areas where tire recapping facilities are inadequate or unavailable may obtain a ration certificate permitting them to exchange with dealers a tire which needs recapping for a used tire or a new "war" tire. Automobile drivers hereafter will find that the purpose for which they drive, rather than the distance they drive, will determine their eligibility for tires. Motorists may now use indelible pencil as well as ink to write their license numbers and state of registration on each gasoline coupon. Motorists must now present their tire inspection records when applying for special gasoline rations.

Agriculture

Impressive research results that have come out of the laboratories, field plots, and experimental kitchens of the Department of Agriculture include the release in a single year of 35 new varieties of strains of crop plants, stepping up production of penicillin, developing methods by which sheep can dose themselves for intestinal worms by taking worm medicine in their salt, curing Cheddar cheese in half the time previously required, revolutionizing ways of fighting insect scourges, and developing recipes so that new soybean products may be used to supplement scarcer foods.

LIFE WITH MOTHER

Dear Mary,

This has been such a full, exciting and completely satisfactory day for me that I'm going to tell you about it... maybe you can understand how this can be so, when I've done none of the things that used to entertain me and give me pleasure in the old days of B.D. (Before Dave)... I haven't met any scintillating friends for lunch at The Petit Gourmet... I haven't seen a stimulating play... I haven't listened to some thrilling music... I haven't been to an art gallery... I haven't even read a good book... but I did...

Stumble out of bed half asleep and fumble around for my bathrobe and slippers when the alarm clock went off at seven o'clock this morning... Dave, as usual, reached over with one arm to turn it off while he climbed out of his side of the bed and began feeling for his robe and slippers... we both smiled charitably as we walked across the hall to the children's room... for, as we say, they "go off" simultaneously with the alarm...

I never fail to have a silent laugh down inside me when I open their door for each of them "goes off" or awakens in his own peculiar fashion... J.D. was rhythmically keeping time to his own lusty cries by humping his buttocks up in the air and then down again... Charlotte was jumping up and down at the end of her crib, saying, "Take my Chawley uppy, Daddy." (Dave calls her, "My Charlie" so she always refers to herself as "My Chawley")... Louis was sitting bolt upright in his bed clutching Teddy tightly to him with one arm and sucking the thumb of his other hand... he stared straight ahead with his eyes open wide but said not a word... and Dave... well Dave was like a whirling dervish... I can think of no better description... he was turning summersaults in his bed, then bouncing out on the floor and back again, then twisting himself into all sorts of fantastic knots... this amazing energy and vitality immediately upon awakening never fails to astonish me...

Still without saying a word to each other, Dave went down to Charlie's end of the room, lifted her out and began to dress her... I unzipped J.D. from his Snuggly Duckie and took him up in my arms... he always reminds me at these times of a rather elongated white angel who has been flying through a rain storm... because he was VERY damp... I rolled him in a blanket and sat down with him on the end of Louis' bed and told Dave to get his bottle of orange juice... Thank Heaven he is now well enough to wake up normally... that is ravenously hungry... he doesn't stop yelling until he has drained a good three ounces of orange juice... this accomplished, he is all smiles and full of goos and Da Das...

Eventually and miraculously, we were all dressed and down to breakfast... The Duchess, (Estelle to you), sat reading the paper while she absent-mindedly sipped her coffee and peeked at the waffle iron beside her... "I see you have broken into public print again," she said to Dave when she saw him... I said, "What?"... and Dave said, "Where?"... and we both tried to grab the paper from her... sure enough, under LETTERS TO THE SUN was a letter re the current political situation signed by "The Gentleman I Married"... since, as you well know, Dave and I are on opposite sides of the political fence and always cancel out each other's vote, I ate while he argued his side of the question and he ate while I argued for my side... we'd have been at it yet if Dave hadn't said, "Don't we practice this morning, Mommy?" Whereat, I left running the country, in perhaps more capable hands and went to the piano with him...

We had such a good practice that we forgot about the time until Dave popped in to kiss us goodbye and say, "You'd better start for school"... then we found we were late... we dashed into our clothes and out the door... all the way up our hill I was trying to reassure Dave and tell him to tell Sister it was my fault that he was late, not his, when we heard a honk and there was my good neighbor, Grace, turning her car around and insisting upon taking us to school... that saved the day for Dave...

But this is perfectly ridiculous, Old Bean... here I am on my third typewritten page and I've told you only about MY DAY up to approximately 9:15 a. m.... and Eleanor Roosevelt can describe her day in a column of newsprint!... it's nearly midnight and I'm so sleepy that I'll just have to chop the rest of the day off...

At two thirty, I started out to school for Dave and walked eight blocks through snow up to my knees... I thought of all of you out there in the country and decided that if it was beautiful, here, I must be glorious there, Dave was there when I arrived... Dave was so excited about our first real snow that he could hardly wait to get home and come down our hill on his sled... he and Louis had a wonderful time while Dave shoveled the walks off...

Dave is up at Wilmette on Coast Guard duty for the night... I can only hope he doesn't come home with pneumonia... I'm munching fudge like boys and I made to keep up from being lonely... Estelle and the children are all asleep now and the house is so quiet that I just can't stay down here alone any longer...

Good night... and my love to you all,

As always, Eleanor

Meetings tell details of new deferments

An agreement of the Cook County War Board and the Selective Service Board in Cook County provides for a raise of units for production for agricultural deferment. These units are an average of present experiences or cases as shown by the files of representative 11C and 11D men. To keep all deferments on a production basis men who fail to produce an average may have units devaluated, while producers above average will gain a degree of credit. This procedure will be outlined at the forthcoming Farmers War Meetings. Other features will be fertilizer, feeds, and a showing of "Soldiers of the Soil."

These meetings will be held as follows:
Fri., Feb. 18, 8 p. m. — St. John's Church Hall, Mt. Prospect and Lawrence.
Mon., Feb. 21, 8 p. m. — Maple School, Dist. 30, Shermer, north of Willow.

Thurs., March 2, 8 p. m. — Prospect Heights School, Palatine and Schoenbeck Rd.
Friday, March 3, 8 p. m. — Palatine High School.

Mon., March 6, 8 p. m. — Elk Grove School.

Tuesday, March 7, 8 p. m. — Bartlett Public School Auditorium.

Wednesday, March 8, 8 p. m. — Barrington Center School.

Monday, March 13, 8 p. m. — Schulte's Hall, Schaumburg.

Feed vegetable proteins to hogs

Soybean meal, used without animal protein supplements to balance farm grain rations for weaned pigs, is satisfactory if the pigs are being fed on pasture or have had access to pasture before weaning and removal to drylot, Damon Catron, associate in animal husbandry, said at Farm and Home Week on the University of Illinois campus today. He reported on experiments conducted at the University farms.

Catron pointed out that the drylot ration should contain about 10 per cent of good alfalfa meal with either vegetable or animal protein. Pigs on rye pasture during the nursing period were transferred at weaning time to drylot and fed corn, soybean meal, minerals and either 10 per cent or 15 per cent alfalfa meal. These all-plant protein rations produced as satisfactory results as corn and a modified trinity mixture, he asserted.

Experimental data also showed that plant proteins fed alone to weaned pigs that had been continuously in drylot will not give satisfactory results even if fortified with 10 per cent alfalfa meal or other sources of water-soluble vitamins. Under those conditions pigs made slow gains and were unthrifty. Death losses were high.

With animal proteins making up 11 per cent of a ration, pigs failed to gain satisfactorily in continuous drylot, unless the ration was supplemented with at least 10 per cent good alfalfa meal or its equivalent.

February 29 is deadline for feed applications

February 29, is the deadline for accepting applications and evidence for January dairy production and sales, warned Carl M. Bornet, chairman of the Cook County committee member in charge of the Dairy Feed Payment Program. Applications and evidence may be filed at any time up until March 1, and the sooner the better, Mr. Bornet added.

Applications for dairy feed payments for the months of October, November, and December should have been filed at the county AAA office by January 31. However, since it has been determined that in some cases producers have been unable to obtain satisfactory evidence of sales to meet this date, county committees are authorized to approve applications for October, November and December production and sales filed not later than February 29, 1944.

"The Dairy Feed Payment program has recently been extended to February 17, 1944," Mr. Bornet said, "but further extension of the program beyond that date will depend upon the action Congress takes with regard to commodity credit corporation." Farmers in Cook County are asked to keep their evidence of sales made after February 17 so that they will be prepared for whatever the outcome of the program may be.

Analyze market, subsidy outlook

The temporary price ceiling controls on hogs, barley, and grain sorghums have been extended at the same level. However, Mr. Fred M. Vinson, director of economic stabilization, has directed the Office of Price Administration to prepare a revision which will reduce these prices to parity.

To help them dispose of their wheat, the Commodity Credit Corporation announced that it would buy wheat from farmers at a fraction of a cent under ceiling prices so long as metal storage bins were available.

Congested hog markets are the rule, and there is no sign of a let-up. For the month of January, receipts of salable hogs at 12 public markets were 91 percent larger than in January 1943. For the week ending February 5, they were up 118 percent. The average weight of barrows and gilts at Chicago in January was 242 pounds compared to 245 pounds a year earlier. This year they brought $13.51 compared to $11.85 last year.

Cattle receipts for January were 27 percent higher than a year earlier at these 12 markets. Calf receipts are beginning to show phenomenal increases also. For January, they were up 37 percent compared to January 1943. The confidence of livestock men in the outlook has weakened considerably. Inasmuch as the cattle man has little protection as far as government supports are concerned, this attitude can be well understood, particularly in light of the optimistic statements we have heard concerning the possibility of terminating the European phase of the war in 1944. Before extending livestock liquidation too far, farmers should remember that the war is not over and may not be over as soon as we might hope and that demand for meat and animal products will probably remain at a very high level for some time after the war is over.

For the year 1944 total consumption of protein meal by mixed feed manufacturers must not exceed the average quantity used during the calendar years of 1942 and 1943.

The War Food Administration announced the continuation of dairy production payments up to February 17 at the same basic rate as those in effect for January. If the Congress continues the Commodity Credit Corporation without limitations preventing dairy production payments, it is expected that the rates for the remainder of February and for March and April will be adjusted to take into account increases in feed and other costs since the original rates were established last October. However, as pastures become available and more productive, the general dairy payments will probably be adjusted to a seasonally lower rate followed by seasonally higher rates next fall and winter.

Record cabbage crop is moving to market

A record crop of cabbage is moving to market in response to the War Food Administration's request for emphasis on production of vegetables supplying vitamins A and C, the nation's leading produce distributor reported this week.

"Growers of cabbage for the winter market have increased acreage of this important food by 46 per cent over last year and 55 per cent in excess of the 1932-42 average," said Harvey A. Baum, head of the A & P Tea Company's produce-buying operations. "The special significance of the WFA request and the growers' response is in the fact that cabbage is the lowest-cost source of two highly-essential nutrients."

The largest expansion of such acreage occurred in Florida and Texas with smaller increases in California and Arizona, said Baum. Prospects are for increased production of 85 per cent over last year and 50 per cent over the record crop of 1942.

Root Crops Suffer
Root crops suffer more from crowding than does spinach. The latter need not be thinned, except to pull out plants for use as they reach suitable size. The last plants will of course be larger, having had more room in which to spread.

Texas

From Sheppard field, Texas, comes word of Edward Bublitz of Arlington Heights.

"From the little information I have been able to pick up it seems we'll be here anywhere from a month to 36 days. I'll have to take basic training all over again, and this time it ought to be fun. They say we'll fire the carbine and sub-machine gun. I don't know just what I'll end up as, but hope I don't stay on the ground."

"Sheppard field seems to be a nice place. We march back from chow to the music of Glenn Miller. Good chow, too. Hope my correspondents notice my change in some mail, for I'm looking for some mail."

Tells story of visit to ancient Carthage

Sees ruins and tombs of old civilizations

Sending a first-hand account of a visit to ruins at Carthage is Lt. Edward Mills of Arlington Heights.

"Thought I would write about a recent trip I took to historic Carthage. It was very interesting and educational. We took a train there, and then a horse and buggy to the various places."

"First place we visited was an old temple. There were a few pillars standing in addition to many walls. You could see the various ages the people had passed thru. First came the Phoenicians, then the Romans, then the Byzantines. You could see the various stages and type of buildings each constructed. The mosaic floor was still there in spots. The first era represented the best construction here."

"The floors were of beautiful designs made of little pieces of rocks of all colors. There was also the altar where sacrifices of animals and babies were made. Only the best and most beautiful babies were sacrificed. They are still digging there uncovering new things."

"There was a small tomb that had just been uncovered. It was a small child. The bones were still in it, though they were just about all ashes, having deteriorated through the years. They found cups, bowls, and other items that were buried with them. There was a little hole and two places along the side where the parents and priest stood while baptizing the child."

"We then went to an old Roman city. They had private streets leading from one house to another. They were big circular tunnels made of concrete. Also under the streets were caves that ran the water into the private cisterns. Each family had their own private one or more cisterns. They also had a silo where the people kept their grain. We haven't really progressed much since those days."

"We also saw an old Byzantium tomb where ashes were kept after cremation. It was a hall like place with holes in it and the ashes were put in. Some were larger than others for adults and children. Inside of the tombs was made of terra cotta. We then went to the open air theater in the side of a curved hill. Man, it really was big. They held great plays there. It must have been a beautiful place because the columns still standing were very finely carved."

"We also saw the amphitheaters where Christians and slaves were sacrificed to the lions. There were rooms where they were kept and an altar where the sacrifices were made. There were seats all around the outside for spectators."

"We then went to a temple that had been built fairly recently in comparison to the other things we had already seen. It was very beautiful with the roof all inlaid work. There is some Cardinal built there in the church of the White Father. His hat has been kept and hangs from the top of the church."

"Next stop was a museum established and kept by members of that church. It had things from all ages in it. Very interesting. Some of the things were very beautiful."

No metal had been introduced there yet. Also, in a building by itself, was the tomb of St. Louis XIV of France. That ended our tour."

"There were many more interesting things but I can't write about them all. Sure wish I had a camera to record some of this. Also wish I knew my history a little better."

His address is Lt. Edward L. Mills, O-468431, APO 396 c/o PM, New York, N. Y.

New Guinea

Writing from New Guinea is Robert Helfers of Arlington Heights.

"I have been doing a little moving again and as you can see I'm in New Guinea again. We are now in a combat area. I have seen the works, Army, Navy and Air Corps in action. It was real cooperation and what a show."

"We followed the infantry and saw a few remains they left behind, mainly dead Japs. I saw one with the top of his head blown off. It was the first time in my life I didn't get a funny feeling seeing death. All it did was build up a little more hatred. There were several of them laying around with a nice piece of lead in them, the only good Japs I've seen."

"We also rummaged through some of the places where they stayed trying to find souvenirs. The infantry left such ruins behind that they were hard to find. I did manage to get part of the rising sun from a zero that was shot down here."

"I haven't killed a Jap as yet but that day may come because they are right in our backyard. Those Japs are so scared they don't know which way to run and maybe one will come my way. The pleasure would be all mine, to get at least one to my credit."

"It wasn't long after we got here that the Japs bombers started to come, plus the bombs. It wasn't the first time I was bombed but believe me if they never come again, thank God. We spent very little time out of our fox-holes. Sometimes we had to sleep in them all night. Now I know what a mole feels like when he buries himself in the ground. Of course that's the safest place to be though."

"Some of the bombs landed a little too close for comfort but none of us were hurt. We can thank God that very few men that took part in this were wounded or killed. I guess the Japs were too scared to put up much resistance, in fact there wasn't much at all. It won't take much more time to get rid of all the Japs in New Guinea."

"Believe me the Japs are really taking a beating on land, sea and in the air. We watched a couple of dog fights in the air and our bombers going over to bomb the Japs somewhere. We watched our bombers drop their bombs and we were close enough to see them explode. We were quite a ways away but still we could see everything. We also saw the navy doing some shelling. They really raised all hell."

"All in all, I've seen enough now. I wish I could get back home."
